

Monash Business School Dean's List

Background

The Dean's List comprises the leading journals and book publishers that enhance our reputation within, but also beyond, the Business and Economics disciplines. The Dean's List is intended to reward faculty who publish in these journals.

The list serves two purposes:

- First, it will be the basis of a financial reward scheme – faculty who publish (with a Monash by-line) in outlets on the list will receive $6,000 per publication paid into a research account. This payment will be over and above any payments made by Centres or Departments.
- Second, faculty publishing in one of these outlets will receive a letter from the Dean to commend Research Excellence.

FURTHERMORE, THE FINANCIAL REWARD SCHEME AND LETTER COMMENDING RESEARCH EXCELLENCE WILL APPLY TO ALL ARTICLES ACCEPTED FOR PUBLICATION OR PUBLISHED SINCE THE BEGINNING OF 2025

Guidelines and Process

- There will be an advertised annual call for submission of eligible publications in the final quarter of the year.
- Submissions will be sent to buseco-research@monash.edu for approval by the Deputy Dean Research.
- Each Business School author by-lined in the publication will receive a letter from the Dean to commend Research Excellence and a $6,000 reward payment set up in a new fund account held in a faculty cost centre.
- Accounts will be set up in January/February and recipients will have until 11 December in the same year to spend the funds. Any unspent funds will be returned to the Faculty, carry-forwards will not be approved.
- Funds may be spent on any research-related purpose.
- Publishing in outlets on the Dean's List is not a requirement to receive a market loading, or for promotion to any level.
- Publishing in an outlet on the Dean's List also has no implications for satisfying the research expectations, beyond the fact that all journals on the Dean's List are already a subset of the Faculty's Group 1+ journals and will receive five quality research points toward satisfying research expectations - the same as all Group 1+ journals.
